Hello? I want to sell an old pc. It has windows 98. Its hardware is not perfect. As the user does not know what he was doing, it was not he did not buy a new computer. Everything is well configured, all disk, all files, all programs. It is a Windows 98 dvd... ISO.... Hi Guys, I am not interested in the whole package, I need some assistance with my Macbook to: 1) Improve the performance of the machine, I am running 8.0.2 and i feel the machine is too slow 2) Using Mac/linux software to emulate FTP, SFTP, Samba, Clipboard transfers, etc... 3) Backup to a... I have a wacom tablet/cintiq combination, that i used with other software. Today i tried to use it with Painter. After hours of trying i could not get it to work. Then i gave up and bought a small tablet (A6 size) that i bought at fry's for $25. It works with zen paintshop pro, zen clothes, and zen puzzle. I have 4 different text files, each one has about a 100 thousand lines. I want to make a database with all the lines. I first made some experiments and I created a software which run one file, but it took too long. For example, I read a file with fread, I loop through the file. I create a... I want to make a very simple single-player game for my Macintosh, but I don't have any programming experience. I wanted to try to create a demo for Mac OS X for my portfolio. I have very little experience with Objective-C, but I know my way around Cocoa. I also need to make a game with simple... I need an application created to allow users to rate images, I have a database but there are not enough entries. I also need it to be a background application to take advantage of the small battery life. I need someone to create a simple video splitter/encoder to share on youtube that i can use to share clips with friends. The first idea i had was to use youtube-dl to grab the clip, then use ffmpeg or mencoder to convert to h264 and mp4. But i need to know some of the basic command line use of ffmpeg... Hi guys. i
